TO SCATTER GOLD COINS IN THIS CITY

Man of Mystery Will Spend Week Here to Give Away Money

A man of mystery—Mr. Speed—will scatter gold coins about the city. Mr. Speed is the man who will hand over gold coins to all persons who greet him with the most recent copy of The Dixon Evening Telegraph and who repeats the magic words of greeting correctly. He will arrive in Dixon Saturday morning in a high-powered Buick car, fully placarded with signs announcing his identity.

He will visit twenty Dixon homes each day for one week. He will knock at your door or ring the door bell. And this is what you must do to get the gold:

Two Conditions
FIRST—You must greet him with the latest edition of The Telegraph in your hand.

SECOND—You must repeat the following words correctly: "Pardon me, you are Mr. Speed, representing a clean newsy newspaper for a growing and prosperous community." That is all there is to the formula, but the slogan will change daily.

If you miss one word of the slogan or forget to greet him with the latest copy of The Telegraph, no gold will come your way. But Mr. Speed may give you another chance, as he makes back calls.

If you greet him with The Telegraph in hand and say the words of greeting correctly he will at once hand over a $5 gold piece, receive your smile and go on his way. Mr. Speed is gathering smiles and scattering smiles and when he gets the real smile is when he hands over the gold. How many real smiles can he get in Dixon?

There is nothing mysterious about the whereabouts of Mr. Speed, for he drives a fully equipped Buick car, with signs that read: "Here comes Mr. Speed—there goes Mr. Speed." Grab The Telegraph when the door bell rings.

To Visit Stores
In addition to the twenty home calls in Dixon he will also visit the stores and business places of the city each afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock.

He will make three purchases daily—one in each of three stores. Anyone who catches him in the act of making a purchase and who has in his or her hand a copy of the latest edition of The Telegraph and who repeats the greeting words correctly will receive $25 in gold.

But you must catch him while he is making the purchase. Mr. Speed parks his Buick car in your immediate neighborhood when making a call—and he never leaves it more than a block away. So watch for the Buick and then look for Mr. Speed. He will also go one better in addition to the calls at twenty homes. He will also visit the surrounding towns—so all readers of The Telegraph should be on the alert for him. He will announce each day the towns he will visit the following day.

When he calls on you grab The Telegraph and say the words just as soon as you open the door—regardless of whom you may think it is. It may be the milk man, it may be the ice man, or the big fat butter and egg man—but say those words.

Must Speak Promptly
Some will say: "Why, what if I say it to the wrong person? They would think I'm crazy." But who wouldn't call crazy a few seconds any time for five dollars?

The names and addresses of all people visited by Mr. Speed will appear in The Telegraph each day, and also the list of stores visited, the articles purchased and the names of the clerks who sell the articles.

Children under 16 years are barred from the shopping prize, but anyone can catch him at the homes, regardless of age.

Commenting on his visit to Dixon, Mr. Speed said today: "Now folks, my little stunt is all in fun, good will and smiles. Let's see how many real smiles I can get in Dixon in one week. I will try to give you something new each day."

So watch for Mr. Speed and his Buick car Saturday.

Mrs. J. D. Stack of Chicago is Called

Mrs. J. D. Stack of Chicago, formerly Miss Mary Carney of Dixon, died at her home in Chicago Thursday morning, news of her passing being received by Dixon relatives yesterday afternoon. Funeral services will be held at 8 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Mary's-of-the-Lake Catholic church in Chicago, with burial at Oakwood cemetery there at noon. Mrs. Stack was a sister of the late Patrick Carney of this city, and is survived by one daughter, Miss May, a son J. D., and a sister, Mrs. Emma Corkery of Chicago.

FASTER SERVICE ON NORTHWESTERN EFFECTIVE SUNDAY

New Time Card Will Go Into Effect: Change Time of Trains

A new time card, which provides from one more passenger train through Dixon, west bound, and the change in the time of several other trains, will go into effect on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad at midnight Saturday, and patrons of the road will do well to note the changes, which are:

Train No. 24, east bound, now due in Dixon at 6:29 a. m., will hereafter leave at 6:14 a. m., arriving in Chicago at 9:55 a. m.

West Bound Trains
Two extra fare trains to the west are provided by the new card, trains No. 1 and No. 7. The running time of train No. 1 between Chicago and Dixon will be reduced twenty-five minutes under the new schedule, the train leaving Chicago at 8:10 p. m., and arriving in Dixon at 10:25 instead of 10:50. Train No. 7 will also make much faster time from Chicago to this city leaving the Madison street terminal at 8:00 p. m. and arriving in Dixon at 10:10 p. m. instead of 10:41.

These extra fare trains will not stop in Dixon except to pick up first class sleeping car passengers for Ogden, Utah and points beyond.

New Train Added
Train No. 27, a new one, will leave Chicago at 8:30 p. m., arriving in Dixon at 10:35 p. m., but it will stop here only to take on first class sleeping car passengers for Cheyenne, Wyoming, or points beyond.

No. 25, which now leaves Chicago at 10:30 a. m. and arrives in Dixon at 1:06 p. m., will be changed to provide five afternoon service from the metropolis. It will leave Chicago at 1:30 p. m. and will arrive here at 5:35 p. m.

No. 23 will arrive in Dixon two minutes later, at 8:09 p. m. instead of 8:07; and No. 3 will arrive here one minute later, at 2:40 a. m. instead of at 2:39.

Service to St. Louis
The Northwestern now has daily passenger and freight service to St. Louis, Mo., since the company recently purchased the Litchfield & Madison railroad, leading out of St. Louis. The small piece of road is about 45 miles in length, and prior to the purchase the C. & N. W. T. company did not have direct service from Dixon to St. Louis.

OLDER GIRLS OF DISTRICT TO HOLD FIRST CONFERENCE HERE TOMORROW: MANY ARE EXPECTED

Everything is set for the Older Girls' Conference which is to be held in this city all day tomorrow. Registrations have been coming in and it is expected that between 100 and 150 high school girls will be in attendance the latest city to report being Freeport, which will send between ten and twenty delegates. The towns in the immediate vicinity will also be well represented, as Polo, for example, is sending 16 girls.

All local delegates are asked to be on hand a little before the opening hour of 10 o'clock so that they may act as a reception committee to the out of town delegates.

The program for tomorrow's sessions will be as follows:

DR. SICKLES AND PARTY HOME FROM VACATION IN WONDERFUL HUNTING GROUND IN NORTH WOOD

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Sickles and Miss Alma Keister have returned from a month's stay at Jishaba Lodge, Dr. Sickles' hunting camp on the Bowstring River in Itasca County in northern Minnesota. Dr. Sickles' north woods home is in the wilderness near the Canadian border and in the heart of the best hunting territory left in the United States, and each year he goes there for the hunting and fishing and a rest from his strenuous work at home.

The territory in which Jishaba Lodge is located is a beautiful land of murmuring pines, sunlit lakes and winding rivers. The waters that flow past the comfortable cabin which

HERRIN GANG USES PLANE IN WARFARE

Three Bombs Dropped Near Shelton Bros.' Resort Today

Harrisburg, Ill., Nov. 12.—(AP)—The warfare between the rival Birger and Shelton gangs developed a new method today when an airplane flew over the Birger roadhouse ten miles west of here and dropped three bombs, one of which exploded when it landed 100 yards from the resort. No damages were done.

FIRE INTO HOUSES.

Benton, Ill., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Unidentified gunmen, believed by Franklin County officers to have been members of the Birger bootleg gang, early today fired into two homes at West City, near here, in the neighborhood formerly frequented by the rival Shelton gangsters. No one was wounded.

Shortly afterwards Carl and Bernie Shelton were arrested in Benton by postal officers and taken eastward by train.

The assailants fired from automobiles into the home of Mrs. Mary Loughran, a widow, whose house is next to that of Mayor Adams, an admitted friend of the Sheltons, and into the home of Gus Adams, a brother of the mayor.

Mistook Location.
Presumably the gunmen had intended to fire upon the mayor's house, but were mistaken as to its location. After one fusillade, the gangsters sped away.

Shelton gangsters were driven out of Franklin county by the sheriff and state's attorney three weeks ago after the feud between the Birger and Shelton factions had become sanguinary.

Later it was learned the Sheltons, who made no effort to resist arrest, were taken to Springfield where they were indicted by a federal grand jury for alleged participation in a mail robbery at Collinsville, Ill., a suburb of St. Louis, Jan. 27, 1925 in which $15,000 was stolen from a 64 year old messenger.

Six postal inspectors and three deputy marshals made the arrests.

Mrs. O. J. Ravnaas is Called by Her Creator
Mrs. O. J. Ravnaas of Monroe Center, Ill., died Wednesday evening at her home. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock from her late home and at 2:30 o'clock from the Lutheran church south of Creston. Mrs. Ravnaas was a highly respected and much loved woman. The obituary will be published later.

from Dixon to St. Louis. The addition to the Northwestern system will be a convenience to Dixonites.

STAR WITNESS FOR STATE IN HALL-MILLS CASE REPORTED IN STATE OF COLLAPSE NOW

Blood Transfusion May be Necessary for "Pig Woman"

Somerville, N. J., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Recalled to the witness stand on resumption of the Hall-Mills murder trial today, Barbara Tough, former maid in the home of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, continued her story of what happened in the home the night Mrs. Hall's husband, the Rev. Edward W. Hall, was slain near New Brunswick with Mrs. Eleanor Mills, choir mistress in his church.

Mrs. Hall was indicted with her brothers, Willie and Henry Stevens, on charges of slaying her husband and Mrs. Mills, but the sister and two brothers are being tried specifically only for the murder of Mrs. Mills.

Miss Tough, under direct examination, said that she had been in the habit of taking a thermos bottle of water to the bedroom of Mrs. Hall every night, but said she did not take any to her Sept. 14, 1922, the night of the double slaying.

On Wednesday Miss Tough testified that she had seen neither Mrs. Hall nor Willie Stevens in their home on the night of the slaying although she did hear Mrs. Hall early in the morning.

Today, Miss Tough testified that in her almost seven years of service, she rarely saw Willie Stevens out of the house after 6 o'clock in the evening.

PIG WOMAN IN COLLAPSE?
New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Jane Gibson, star witness in the Hall-Mills case, who is seriously ill, had a relapse last night and the physicians arranged for her to undergo a blood transfusion this morning, says the New York Times.

PLAN TRANSFUSION
Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 12.—(AP)—City hospital officials today refused to confirm a report that Mrs. Jane Gibson, the state's star witness in the Hall-Mills case, who is seriously ill, had had a relapse last night, but waited for an official report by Dr. C. B. Kelly, staff physician in charge of the case.

It was not denied, however, that arrangements for a blood transfusion had been made. The unofficial statement at 10 a. m., was that Mrs. Gibson had spent a comfortable night.

DIVORCE IS GRANTED
George Stilton of Harmon was granted a decree of divorce by Judge Harry Edwards in the circuit court this morning from his wife, Katherine, desertion being charged.

"Uncle Joe" Was Known as Hard Battler

At Washington they are saying these things about "Uncle Joe" Cannon:

He never shunned a fight. He never asked for quarter. He hit hard, but never below the belt. He never lowered his colors. He was beaten at times, but he often won where another would not have dared to fight.

Under all circumstances he exhibited his superb courage in expressing his convictions. He was the embodiment of courage, directness and integrity.

Newcomer Co. Held Annual Rabbit Hunt

The annual rabbit hunt, an event conducted each year by the F. X. Newcomer agency, was held yesterday in Ogden county, when more than 50 cotton tails were bagged. Several district managers of underwriting firms from Chicago were present and enjoyed the hunt and feast. Among those were Webb N. Elliott and James W. Kweek of the Connecticut Fire Insurance company who have not missed one of the hunts in many years.

VALIANT WARRIOR OF MANY YEARS IN CONGRESS SLEPT PEACEFULLY AWAY AT HIS HOME IN DANVILLE AT AGE OF 90

Picturesque Career of Illustrious Illinois Citizen Ends

Danville, Ill., Nov. 12.—(AP)—On the stroke of twelve at noon today, "Uncle Joe" Cannon, Danville's illustrious son, passed away at his home 418 North Vermillion Street.

The end of his ninety years of active and picturesque life came peacefully. He simply slept away.

Since about 2 o'clock this morning, it had been apparent the end was near. Dr. Wilkinson was called at that hour. At that time Mr. Cannon was having great difficulty swallowing because of the mucus in his throat.

Dr. Wilkinson relieved this condition temporarily.

He returned to the bedside at 8:15 o'clock and spent half an hour there. At that time "Uncle Joe" was sleeping peacefully. Between 10 and 11 o'clock he became restless, then settled again into a calm sleep. In all he had been in a state of coma for about ten hours before the end came.

Due to Heart Trouble.

Death was due, Dr. Wilkinson said, to myocardial degeneration, or weakening of the heart muscles.

The course which had marked Mr. Cannon's life also marked his last days of life. Just a few days ago, he spoke to his daughters and his nurse, telling them to have courage and not give up. He did not fear death and rarely spoke of it except incidentally. Dr. Wilkinson said.

No funeral arrangements have as yet been announced.

Time scarcely had touched with silver the thin locks of Joseph Gurney Cannon years ago, ere the nation had rechristened him "Uncle Joe." And under that title, confirmed by millions who never saw him, yet knew every line of his worn face and every whimsical trait of his intense personality, "Uncle Joe" came at last to end his career as eldest statesman of the nation; the man of longest service in the Congress; the object of honors among his colleagues that took no thought of party or political differences.

Gave Great Service

In the musty files of the Congressional Record there stands written a moving tale of this man's great service. It begins back in 1873 when first he came out of Illinois to take his seat in the House even then a picturesque, fire-eating political gladiator to whom the uproar of debate and the tense moments in committee were the breath of life. The yellowed pages show day by day how the hot blood of youth drove him into every fray, his tongue lashing out at his opponents.

Cannon Picked Tombstone

By NEA Service

Danville, Ill., Nov. 12.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon will be laid to rest under a tombstone he selected himself.

Back in the spring of 1918 Joseph Gurney Cannon, then only 82, suffered a slight illness. Such periods of ill health came rarely in his active life and "Uncle Joe" took warning. Rather than leave the responsibility and choice of his tombstone to

OLD MASTERS

A flock of sheep that leisurely pass by One after one; the sound of rain, and Murmuring the fall of rivers, winds and seas.
Smooth fields, white sheets of water,
and pure sky.

I've thought of all by turns, and yet
do lie
Sleepless; and soon the small birds melodies
Must hear, their utter'd from my orchard trees,
And the cuckoo's melancholy cry.

Even thus last night, and two nights
more I lay,
And could not win thee, Sleep! by any stealth;
So do not let me wear tonight away.

Without Thee what is all the morn-ing's wealth?
Come, blessed barrier between day
and day,
Dear mother of fresh thoughts and joyous health.

—Wordsworth: To Sleep.

Number of Weddings Celebrated Here

Earl G. Galor of Polo and Miss Mildred Hamburg of Dixon were united in marriage on Nov. 2nd at the M. E. parsonage in this city. In the absence of Rev. A. W. Carlson, pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. W. W. Marshall, pastor of the Baptist church officiated for him. The bride and bridegroom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Amel Folker. Both young people are popular in Dixon and Polo and vicinity and have the best wishes of hosts of friends.

Ray Henry Wortman of Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Miss Caroline Bernadine Hammill of Cedar Rapids, Ia. were married Nov. 6 by Dr. A. W. Carlson, pastor of the Methodist church, at the M. E. parsonage. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. C. Hahn of Cedar Rapids and will make their home in Des Moines, Ia.

Joseph C. Rambo of Mendota, and Mrs. Nellie G. Miller of Mendota were married at 10 o'clock this morning at the Baptist parsonage. Dr. A. W. Carlson of the Methodist church officiating in the absence of Rev. W.

W. Marshall pastor of the Baptist church. The bride couple were unattended. It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Rambo will make their home in Dixon in the near future, although residing now in Mendota. Friends here extend best wishes for their happiness.

W. M. S. of Grace Church in Meeting

The W. M. S. of Grace Evangelical church held its regular monthly meeting and annual thank offering at the church on Tuesday.

The meeting opened at 10:30 with a praise service in charge of Mrs. F. S. Graybill. At noon a bounteous picnic dinner was served in the basement of the church, after which a social time was enjoyed. At 2 o'clock the meeting was called to order. Mrs. Webster had charge of the devotion, after which Mrs. Hartman gave the lesson study on "Modern Women." Mrs. Glesner read the leaflet entitled "In the Tent of Korah." Mrs. Cummins sang a solo which was enjoyed by all. Miss Jeanette Dewey gave a very interesting talk along the line of the lesson. Roll call and business followed and the thank offering boxes were received.

The meeting, which had been in charge of the officers, closed with the benediction.

Entertained With Dinner and Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lager and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Leland were hosts and hostesses last evening at a dinner and an evening of bridge. Thirty guests were entertained at dinner at the Colonial Inn at Grand Detour, the spacious dining room and tables being beautifully decorated with bronze and yellow chrysanthemums, and yellow candles.

After the well appointed and delicious dinner an evening of bridge was enjoyed at the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Leland. Mrs. W. H. Strong was awarded the favor ladies, and Prof. W. H. Strong won the high score favor for the gentlemen. Mrs. W. G. Murray was awarded the consolation favor for the ladies and Prof. W. H. Coppins was awarded the consolation favor for the gentlemen. The evening was one of much pleasure to the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lager, and Mr. and Mrs. Leland.

Women's Republican Club to Sponsor Card Party Dec. 8th

The Women's Republican club of this district will sponsor a large card party to be held Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 8th, in Downing hall. It is expected that there will be 150 tables employed at the party. The committees will be announced later. The general chairman of the card party is Mrs. H. C. Bartholomew who is also the chairman of the Women's Republican club for this district. More of the card party will be printed later.

Palmyra Mutual Aid Meeting

The members of the Palmyra Mutual Aid Society held an all day meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Amos Holzner. A picnic dinner was enjoyed at noon, by the twenty-three members and four visitors.

The business meeting and devotion were held with song and prayer and Mrs. Bert Pearl read the Thanksgiving Psalm. The secretary-treasurer's report was also given. Short Cuts in Sewing, proving of much interest to all present, was ably given and demonstrated by Mrs. George Brooks.

Mrs. Charles Menck invited the Aid to meet with her at the next meeting December 2nd. After a very enjoyable and profitable day the club adjourned until Dec. 3rd.

South Dixon Community Club

The South Dixon Community club met Wednesday in an all day meeting with Mrs. Charles Breisch, the attendance not being very large because of corn picking, and illness in the neighborhood.

The day was spent in picking, geese, fifty-five being dressed. The hostess furnished a delicious three course dinner at noon. The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Walter Lelvan in three weeks.

Happily Surprised Last Evening

Last evening a company of eighteen relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. Alice Wirth on Douglas avenue and pleasantly surprised Mr. and Mrs. J. Wirth of Lunda, Utah, who have been visiting in this vicinity for about a month. A happy evening was spent in games and music and a delicious luncheon was served.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Wirth were presented with a handsome silver meat fork as a token of esteem from those present. After a very pleasant evening all departed for their homes at a late hour, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Wirth, who start today for their home in Utah, a safe journey to the west.

Conderman-Thompson Wedding November 4

Alta Conderman and Glenn Thompson were united in marriage Thursday afternoon, Nov. 4 at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage in Amboy. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Diercks and the couple were attended by Fern and Durward Conderman, sister and brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left immediately by auto for Antigo, Wis., where they will spend a week with Mrs. Thompson's grandparents.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Conderman and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson. They will make their home on the bridegroom's father's farm southwest of Amboy. The best wishes of many friends accompany them.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Conderman entertained with a wedding dinner in honor of the bride and groom Thursday noon. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Conderman, Alton, Iowa and Evelyn Conderman and Curtis Conderman and family.

Ideal Club in Delightful Meeting

The members of the Ideal club held a most delightful meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Lloyd Lewis at her home on Boyd street. The meeting was well attended. The Lewis home was attractively decorated with autumn flowers. Mrs. Addie Fordham gave during the afternoon a review of S. M. Hutchinson's book, "His Increasing Purpose." It was an exceedingly well written review and greatly enjoyed by her listeners.

Mrs. Maude Ferguson gave most interesting current events. After the program the hostess served during the social hour a delicious luncheon.

DON'T FORGET THAT THERE'S DRUGGIES IN AN OFFICE, TOO

By Olive Roberts Barton

Much is written concerning the woman who has no outlet save her house and family and daily drudgery. Little has been said about the man who has no outlet save his work, day in and day out, year after year, time without end. Amen!

He starts a habit of disappearing at eight every morning and not reappearing until six in the evening. Out of the way exactly when most convenient and right that he should be out of the way. Then he reappears like the little man in the barometer, just in time to be an escort and pay the way for the evening's entertainment for the others. Before he leaves in the morning he hands over enough money for bills and the day's expenses.

Every one from mother to the baby thinks what an easy time he has, going out and getting a nice ride every morning and every evening in the trolley or subway, and working in a nice office and getting such nice money—only he doesn't get enough of it!

One of the greatest tragedies of the modern age is the man caught in the toils of family cares before he fairly has his feet on the ground. He marries early. Responsibilities pile up thick and fast. There were to be no babies for a while, but there are several. Emergencies and sickness come to the best of families.

He is caught in the mill of unrelenting duty to his family. He dare not break away from a sure income, small though it may be, to try out those wonderful ideals of which he has dreamed for years, and for which perhaps he has been trained. He cannot afford to lose a month's salary, certainly he can't take a chance on a year—two years, perhaps, before the new business would pay. He can never be his own man—he must go on being part of a machine. He has impulses, too, to get away from it all once in a while, just as his wife has.

We must all work, as the song says, for the long, long night is coming when man's work is done. But young men planning to marry would better make the big chance before responsibilities begin. There may be no chance later.

NEW MANAGER OF BROWNS HAS "REP" OF BEING BRAINY

Dan Howley Was Known as "Candy Kid" on Indianapolis Team

Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Dan Howley, the newly appointed manager of the St. Louis Browns, was known as the "Candy Kid" when he was a kid catcher for the Indianapolis American Association team back in 1908, when the Hoosiers won the American Association pennant. The Indianapolis team of 1908 was considered one of the brainiest minor league teams in history.

Howley was understudy to Paddy Livingston, who afterwards played with Connie Mack's Athletics. Howley was the life of the party and full of pepper. The youngster got his chance to do his bit behind the plate and caught many games that year, and in 1909 he was first string catcher as Livingston had gone up to the majors.

Associated with Howley in that 1908 team were two players who became stars in the majors. Donnie Bush, a mere boy then, was the short stop. Bush joined Detroit in the fall of 1908 and remained as shortstop for fifteen years. Bush this fall was appointed manager of Pittsburgh. Rube Marquard, a tall skinny youth, baffled the batters in the Association that year, and was sold to the Giants for the unheard of price, at that time, $11,000. Other members of the Indians that year were Charley Carr, the manager and slugging first baseman; Otto Williams, second baseman, who this year was a coach on the St. Louis Cardinals, the new world's champions; Bush at short; Bill Hopkin, a marvelous fielder, who couldn't hit, at third base. In the outfield was Cy Coulter, Jimmy Cook, the former University of Illinois athlete, Paul Davidson and Jack Hayden, formerly of the Boston Red Sox. Eddie Siever, the former Detroit pitcher; Walter Slagle and "Bull" Durham, the double header iron man, were other members of the pitching staff.

That roster indicates that Howley got a good start in learning the fine points of baseball.

Campbell's White Cross Drug Store

where so many fine ball players learned the game, and when he joined the Indianapolis team, he was so full of life, so effervescent and fresh that the name of "Candy Kid" was immediately applied.

Some of Howley's old time friends may recall one incident that indicates his sense of humor of those old days. When the Indianapolis club was making a trip to Minneapolis, the team stopped over in Chicago for a few hours. Howley, Wakefield and several others sought a barber shop and had their heads shaved. Immediately afterwards they found one of those while-you-wait picture galleries and the group was photographed. Howley wrote on the picture post cards "Four safe crackers from Chicago," and mailed several back to Indianapolis.

After leaving Indianapolis Howley went east and then came to the majors as a coach, being associated with Cobb at Detroit before he was appointed manager at Toronto. Howley performed the miracle of winning a pennant in the International League this year, beating out Baltimore, which club has won the flag so often that it was a habit. Howley's team defeated Louisville in the "little world series."

600,000 Applicants for 100,000 Tickets

Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Colonel H. C. Carbaugh, a short, portly army veteran who looks and acts like he might be a retired jurist, today is about the most important individual in America. He has the hopeless job of trying to seat 600,000 spectators in 100,000 seats.

This gray haired retired officer is the distributor of tickets for the Army-Navy game to be played here two weeks from tomorrow. Although half a million persons who would like to make his acquaintance, it is impossible to get near enough to him to hand him a cigar. Wherever he goes about a body guard surrounds him. Outside the door of his office, a copper stands guard with instructions to permit no body to enter. And nobody does.

NOT ABSENTEE OWNERSHIP.

Most of us who are close to the farms are aware that there is little absentee ownership, little concentration of farm land into hands of a few, but the department of agriculture has compiled statistics showing these to be the facts and disclosing just where the ownership is.

Gradual increase in the number of farms occupied by tenants may have inclined to give statistical misinformation, but analysis of these statistics proves that there is nothing alarming in the situation. Although Illinois has had one of the conspicuous examples of absentee landlordism, the government statistics show that such ownership is rare, particularly in states of the middlewest.

It will be of interest to those who have had some fears concerning reports of growing tenantry that 92 percent of rented farms are owned by persons resident in the counties in which the land is located or in counties adjoining, and that 62 percent are owned within three miles of their location.

That simply proves that conditions are general as they are known in localities; that the farms are rented because the owner has retired on account of age or because of having accumulated enough to live in town without more dependence upon the farm than the rental income; or that the land has been passed on to sons or daughters, who occupy it and pay rent to the owner; or that the heirs have taken up residence in the nearby towns and have rented the land outside of the family.

Not so essential in the matter of proof of the situation is the statistical report that 29 percent of the Illinois landlords reside in municipalities of 2500 population or less and that 34 percent reside in cities of more than 2500.

When the next generation is on the farms the trend will be more definitely established. Many men who have been going off the farms in the last twenty years in the corn belt obtained their land at extremely low prices. They were one period removed from the government transaction of $1.25 an acre. They made their money upon which they retired, if they sold their farms, by the increase in the price of their land more than upon the income, in many cases.

Now the tenant farmer is confronted with the problem of purchasing land at $200 an acre and paying for it from proceeds of operation. The question is whether the tenant will become the owner in these circumstances or whether the land will pass to heirs from one generation to another.

WHERE WOMEN RULE.

An American college professor, returning from South Africa, reports a "feminine paradise" he discovered there.

It is in northern Rhodesia among a native tribe called Lambas. The tribe is a "matriarchy," one of the most ancient forms of tribal organization known, which is still found in some branches of the Thibetan race in the Himalayas.

The mother is head of her family and village, and absolute ruler, except for such powers as are exercised by the mother-in-law. The men merely hang around and obey orders. They have no authority over the children. The women arrange all the marriage. The right of succession, in property as well as rulership, is always in the female line.

But why go to South Africa to find a place like that?

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

To think that all their crazy chase, around the farmer's country place, had not turned up Clowey made the Tynmites real mad. Said Coppy, "I am sure that he was in the tool chest. Goodness me perhaps the farmer's caught him and if so, that's truly sad."

Then, Ukey piped. "Let's look around, and maybe yet he can be found. Remember Clowey's clever and perhaps he got away. We don't dare let him know we're here by calling him, because I fear the farmer might be near at hand and hear whatever we say."

"Twas then decided that they'd look in every room and every nook down in the pitch dark basement. There was nothing else to do. So one ran here and one ran there, and Coppy whispered, "Hey, beware. Don't stumble over rubbish. Let's be careful till we're through."

"They looked and looked, but mercy me, 'twas very hard for them to see, and finally one suggested that they'd better have a light. But Coppy whispered, "What's the use? As soon as we turn on the light, the farmer'd see the glare and know that something wasn't right."

Now this, of course, was good advice and, though the dark was not so nice, they simply kept on searching as the night hours rolled along. And then a queer thing came to pass. They heard a sudden crash of glass, and Scouty whispered, "That was me, I guess we're all in wrong."

"I knocked a fruit jar off the shelf and mighty near fell off myself. I've climbed around so much I guess my clothes are badly torn. We've made such noises I think it best that we all hide and get a rest, and then continue looking with the coming of the morning."

SAINT and SINNER

BY ANNE AUSTIN

"I see that you tumbled," Cherry's crisp, sarcastic voice answered the piteous question in Faith's eyes. "Your little blue-eyed boy friend, Bob Hathaway, in person!"

Faith shielded her eyes with a trembling hand. Oh, it couldn't be Bob who would stoop so low as to blackmail a girl! Not Bob—her Bob! "You look pretty sick, Faith. Can't I get you a drink of water or something?" Bill Warren's voice came to her dimly through the waves of nausea that poured over her.

"No," she shook her head. "Go on, Cherry. What else? How did you happen to see so much?"

"I wish I hadn't told you a word," Cherry whimpered, covering against Bill Warren like a child seeking comfort. "A I was telling you, Chris and I danced, until I was so hot that I begged him to take me out on the veranda. We noticed as we passed by our table to get my handbag that Handsome Harry, the sleuth, had disappeared. Well, we went out on the veranda, and stood leaning against one of those rough log posts—not talking, just—just looking at the moon."

She flashed under the gaze of Faith's accusing, puzzled brown eyes. Faith has a sudden picture of that scene as it must have been enacted.

"Yes," she whispered, as Cherry paused.

"Well, then someone bumped his head right under our feet. You know the veranda there is not quite high enough from the ground for a man to stand up under it. We heard someone say 'damn' and I recognized Bob Hathaway's voice instantly. So did Chris. We kept real still for the minute, then Chris vaulted over the banister and dropped to the ground. It isn't enclosed under the veranda, you know, and he saw Bob and this Handsome Harry talking together. The sleuth was giving him a piece of paper."

"When Bob saw Chris he pocketed the scrap of paper and said, 'Hello, Willy' as cool as a cucumber. Chris answered him, and then came back up on the veranda by way of the steps. We beat it then, and by the time we were a quarter of a mile from the cabin, Handsome Harry's blower was rattling along behind us."

"When did you join Bill?" Faith asked in a flat, dull voice.

"I don't spoil this story by beating me to my climax," Cherry laughed. "Like a little fool, I told Chris all about the anonymous letters, and he got it into his head that the only thing for us to do was to elope tonight. He's still got that marriage license parked in his vest pocket—"

"Marriage license?" Faith echoed, staring at Cherry in bewilderment.

"Oh, sure, he took out a marriage license about two months ago, over in Mariboro county, where he's got a cousin in the license bureau, who promised Chris not to record it until he gave the word. He's always flashing it on me, like he did tonight. He can't get it through his head that I'm going to marry Mr. Cluny, and—well, he tried the same old stunt again. Tried to abduct me. Stepped on the gas and lost Handsome Harry in about two minutes, then burnt up the road toward Mariboro. Imagine! Me trying to grab the wheel away from him, and yelling my head off, not when any car was close to us, you understand, but just to scare him and make him behave. If he hadn't turned the car over on that hairpin curve—"

"Turned the car over?" Faith gasped. "Oh, darling, were you hurt?"

"Gee, you're a riot, Faith! A wow!" Cherry chuckled. "Neither of us was hurt a bit, but you ought to see the car! I jumped and Chris slid to the bottom of the car out from under the steering wheel. When I heard him scrambling out and swearing, I knew he wasn't hurt a bit, and I began to run down the road. I looked back over my shoulder, just to make sure, you know, and there was Chris walking around and around the car, and I staggered on with the one big idea—to get away from there!"

"Then I came along," Bill Warren grinned at Faith reassuringly. "I'd been over to the Mariboro Country Club to a dinner dance, and as the girls live in Mariboro, I was driving home alone. I thought I must be bugged or something when my headlights picked up Cherry running like a two-year-old in a steeple chase."

It was one time the infant was glad to see old Bill, huh?" His hand ruffled Cherry's short, red-gold curls with affectionate familiarity.

"You said a mouthful," Cherry tweaked his nose impudently. "And so we are here. Now, I ask you— isn't that a hot story? But what do you think of Bob, Faith? It does prove something, doesn't it?—his pow-wow-ing with the sleuth under the veranda, I mean? Aw, honey, her voice was suddenly warmly sweet and contrite. "I wish I hadn't told you, but I thought you ought to know. You look as if you'd been sick a month, honestly! He's not worth it, darling. Don't waste any more sleep over him."

"All right, then," Faith smiled wanly. "I'll go to bed, and stop wasting sleep right now. Thank you, Bill, for bringing Cherry home. It will make it much easier for Cherry as far as Dad's concerned. Good night."

In bed, however, Faith found that she could not obey Cherry's sisterly advice to waste no more sleep over Bob Hathaway. The letters had undoubtedly come out of his office, written either by him or his stenographer. His stenographer! Why hadn't she thought of that before? She sat up in bed, resting her tired head on her knees and staring into the darkness. His stenographer had done it without his knowledge, paid to blackmail Cherry into jilting old man Cluny by some unscrupulous member of the Cluny family. Of course! She began to sob with relief. But—how had the stenographer known so much about Cherry? And why had Bob Hathaway met the "sleuth" clandestinely?

At last she did go to sleep, but only after she had determined to face Bob Hathaway with the damning evidence against him which Cherry had accumulated.

AMUSEMENTS

GREAT NORTHERN THEATRE, CHICAGO

"The Vagabond King" based on Mc Carthy's "If I Were King" is classed by all of the critics and the general theater-going public as the greatest and most successful musical play in Chicago. The Great Northern Theatre which has housed to many musical successes has never had more enthusiastic audiences and never one which has done so well financially. It also has the record of repeaters as there are many who have, during its stay here, seen it ten and twelve times. The delightful score of Rudolf Friml's, with the never-to-be-forgotten and stirring "Song of the Vagabonds" and the melodious duet "Only a Rose" is on everyone's lips. As one strolls along the street the Victor and Camco Records can be heard from practically every music store.

The Hotels say that the first play asked for from the out-of-town guest, is "The Vagabond King." Tickets are at a premium and must be purchased weeks in advance.

The tribulations that Russell Janney went through in getting it produced are nearly as dramatic as the play itself. Every indication is that the Chicago company will remain here a year or more.

The splendid cast with Dennis King as Harbols Villon, Berna Deane as Katherine de Vaucelles, Arthur Deagon as Guy Tahart, George Probert as Louis Xith, Frances Halliday as Huguenot, Alea Edwards as Lady Mary and the most remarkable chorus of 150, ever assembled, and the symphony orchestra of 30, bring about a never-to-be-forgotten evening in the theater.

DIXON TEAMS WIN BOTH GAMES OF HOLIDAY DOUBLE-HEADER; THE DOPE BUCKET UPSET BY LOCAL PLAYERS

Opponents Made But One First Down in Both Games Yesterday

Dixon Heavies, 20; Amboy, 0.
Dixon Lights, 25; St. Mary's, 0.

The dope was completely upset yesterday afternoon at the north side athletic field when a large crowd braved the chill winds and witnessed the double-header football game, which resulted in a double victory for Dixon. In the certain-raiser, the Dixon Ponies played the St. Mary parochial team from Sterling and went through the game without permitting Sterling to secure a first down. In the main event, which the Amboy News had hoped to mean a 13 to 6 victory for Amboy, the Dixon heavies were never in danger and the opposing team made but one first down during the game and that was aided by a five yard penalty which Dixon suffered for off side. It was one of the best games that has been played on the local field and was most unusual in that the two games saw the opposition making but one first down.

"Sox" Byers Stopped
Amboy's hard plowing backfield did not get a chance to start and "Sox" Byers, star of Coach Dommett's crew was watched every closely. Dixon kicked off to Amboy's ten yard line, Byers bringing the ball back ten yards. On an attempted run around right end, Byers lost three yards. Jewett hit the center of the line on the next play and regained the lost ground, then Byers punted to Dixon's 40 yard line. Segner made nine around right end and McNicol three off left tackle. Segner made nine more around right end and McNicol found a hole in the line which netted him two more. Beede was given the ball on the next play and a hole was made in Amboy's line, which permitted him to carry the ball 29 yards for the first touchdown, McNicol kicking the goal. Dixon, 7; Amboy, 0.
Dixon kicked off to Amboy's five yard line, Byers returning the ball 20 yards. Amboy failed to gain on two attempts and Byers punted to the 55 yard line. Dixon was being held closer and Segner punted on the fourth down. The ball was fumbled on Dixon's 45 yard line, the punt having been blocked, but Marks recovered it near the side line. McNicol gained eight yards off left tackle. Segner fumbled a bad pass, the ball going to Amboy in the center of the field. Byers was carried back a yard on a delayed crisis carry but made it back on the next drive into the center of the line. Byers then punted, the ball rolling back of Dixon's goal line. The quarter closed with Dixon in possession of the ball, Amboy not having made a first down.

Second Quarter.
Segner punted 70 yards to Amboy's 20 yard line. On the second down, Dixon was penalized five yards for off side, this being the only first down Amboy made during the afternoon, when Finch found a hole in the line and ripped off six yards which by the aid of the penalty made it first down. At this stage Amboy made a swart which for a time looked like a surprise attack against Dixon. Finch, Jewett and Kuhn hit the line hard for short gains and then a pass was tried which Segner intercepted on his own 48 yard line and ran it back three yards before being downed. On short gains through the line, Dixon made 24 yards in quick succession, bringing the ball to Amboy's ten yard line. On a race around right end Segner lost three yards but on the next play chose the opposite end of the line for an eight yard gain. He was stopped when he tried the right end of the line again and Dixon lost the ball on downs on Amboy's five yard line, Byers punting to the center of the field as the half closed.

Third Quarter.
Byers kicked off for Amboy to Dixon's 30 yard line. Marks returning 15 yards after he had fumbled and recovered, Segner was carried for a yard loss on an attempted spurt around right end. Kennedy hit the line for a five yard gain and Beede made 22 yards around the left end. McNicol added two more through right tackle and Kennedy three through center. McNicol lost two yards when he fumbled the ball. The field was very slippery and both teams were fumbling the wet ball. Beede tried the left end but was stopped and Amboy took possession of the ball on their own 20 yard line. Byers made five off right tackle and Kuhn one off left tackle. Byers punted to, Dixon's 30 yard line. Kennedy went through center for ten yards, McNicol gaining nine more off tackle. Kennedy hit center again for six and Segner added eight off left tackle. Kennedy hit the same hole off left tackle for ten yards and Beede crashed through center for eight more. Amboy called for time out to consider a means of stopping the attack which was smothering the visitors. Kennedy made five off left tackle and Segner two more at the same place. Beede lost two when he tried to skirt right end. McNicol passed to N. Miller over the line, two Amboy players touching the ball, but failing to knock it down, Miller grabbed it and it was the second touchdown for Dixon, McNicol kicking the goal. Dixon, 14; Amboy, 0.

Dixon kicked off to Amboy's 12 yard line, Byers returning it eight yards. Amboy was penalized five yards for off side and punted to Dixon's 37 yard line. McNicol returning five as the quarter closed.

Fourth Quarter.
Leo Miller substituted for Marks in the line. Beede made five around right end and McNicol lost a yard around left end. Kennedy gained six through left tackle and McNicol two more in the same spot. Segner made four around right end and Beede lacked a few inches of making ten around left end. Dixon suffered a 15 yard penalty for holding and McNicol punted to Amboy's 30 yard line. Byers was stopped in his tracks when he caught the punt and returned the punt, making a short kick to the center of the field. Dixon was penalized five yards for off side. Kinney substituted for Reagan, rib; Cole, lib; Bloom, qb; McDonald, fb.
Kennedy snapped a pass to McNicol which was good for 12 yards, Jewett and Finch, two of Amboy's strong men left the game, Simpson and Suterlin substituting. Teeter relieved Kennedy at full back. McNicol hit the center of the line for the additional two feet which was necessary to put the ball over Amboy's line for the third touchdown, but failed to kick the goal. Dixon, 20; Amboy, 0.
As the game neared a close, Conch Bowers sent in a string of Ponies to finish up. Prescott relieving Leo Miller, Eichler for Mike Kinney. Munday for N. Miller and Wood for Kellar.

The Lineup.
Amboy—Finn, G Toole, lb; G. Byers, re; Selover, lt; Shippert, rt; Lewis, Lone, lg; Oberhart, rg; Sullivan, c; J. Byers, rlb; Kuhn, lib; Jewett, fb; Finch, qb.
Dixon—Flanngam, lb; N. Miller, re; Kellar, lt; Weinman, rt; L. Miller, Marks, lg; Reagan, rg; Kinney, Eichler, c; Segner, rlb; Beede, lib; Teeter, fb; McNicol, Kennedy, qb.
Officials—Furr, DeKalb, referee; Davenport, Rock Island, umpire; Vaughan, Dixon, head linesman.

Ponies Played Well
Coach McMaisters Ponies gave a wonderful account of themselves in the curtain raising event of the afternoon, playing the best game they have played this season and at times outshining their elders. The St. Mary's team was far heavier than Dixon, but were helpless in their attempts to gain through the line and appeared slow on all plays. Duffy intercepted a forward pass on St. Mary's 20 yard line early in the opening period and wormed his way over for the first score. Phillips failed to kick the goal. McDonald of St. Mary's was taken out of the game on the third down of the game with a severe gash under his right eye.
Blackburn grabbed a slow pass out of the air near the close of the second quarter and scampered across St. Mary's line for a touchdown. Hilliker missed the kick. Dixon, 12; St. Mary's, 0.

St. Mary's was played off their feet and were being carried back for heavy losses repeatedly. Dixon failed to score in the third quarter but in the fourth, Blackburn snapped a pass to Hilliker which was good for 12 yards and then Duffy wormed his way through the visitors line, carrying the ball over for the third touchdown, Blackburn kicking the goal. Dixon, 19; St. Mary's, 0. In the last few minutes of play Blackburn opened up another pass to Phillips, who carried it over for the fourth touchdown, Blackburn failing to kick the goal. Dixon, 25; St. Mary's, 0.

The Lineup.
St. Mary's—McCarthy, re; Hermes, rt; Sleeper, rg; Burke, c; Grennan, rib; O'Malley, lt; Preston, lg; Reagan, rib; Cole, lib; Bloom, qb; McDonald, fb.
Dixon Ponies—Hilliker, re; Rossiter, lb; Wood, rt; Schrock, lt; Campbell, rg; Keller, lg; Stitzel, c; Duffy, fb.

qb; Blackburn, fb; Crows, rlb; Phillips, lib.
Officials—Davenport, Rock Island, referee; Furr, DeKalb, umpire; Vaughan, Dixon, head linesman.

Sport Briefs

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
College football has nothing to fear from the professional gambler, in the view of Wall Street brokers, explaining that the game is too complicated "to dope out." One firm estimated week end wagers at only $300,000 as compared with $3,000,000 bet on the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

At the request of Jess Sweetser, first American-born amateur to win the British championship, golfers will stage a tournament next month for the National Tuberculosis Association. Sweetser is making a fight for health at Asheville, N. C.

Notre Dame, home of mighty football teams, also has become a school for coaches. Twenty seven products of Rockne's genius are acting as mentors at various universities this season.

Tickets for the Army-Notre Dame game at the Yankee Stadium tomorrow are at as high a premium as any games ever held in New York, not excepting Army-Navy conflicts. A sell-out was announced a week ago and speculators pricing choice seats at as high as $25 apiece are reaping a harvest. The attendance is expected to reach 70,000.

SCHALK SUCCEEDS COLLINS AS SOX MANAGER IN 1927

"Cracker" Expects to Take Regular Turn Behind the Bat

Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Ray Schalk, diminutive backstop who has accumulated a net full of records in the 1900 games he has caught for the Chicago White Sox, will be out to capture a few managerial records next season.

The fiery plate man who couldn't fit him when he joined the team fourteen years ago, has been named pilot of the southsiders by President Comiskey, succeeding Eddie Collins, manager the last two seasons.

Collins, once a member of the famous $100,000 infield of the Philadelphia Athletics, probably will be given his unconditional release and may return to the team he met eleven years ago. Mr. Comiskey offered little comment on the change other than a statement that "Schalk always gave the game his best efforts and has been one of the hardest workers on the club and I feel that he is entitled to the chance of leading the club which he has served so well."

Contract for Year
Schalk said he expected to be working behind the bat as usual next season besides handling the team. "I feel that we have a pretty good ball team now," he said. His contract is for one year.

Gossip here named Collins as a possible manager of the Athletics or of the Boston Red Sox.

In 1920 Schalk hung up a record for catching 121 games and he was behind the plate in 100 or more games for twelve years, eleven of them consecutive. He also holds the record for greatest number of games caught.

Schalk was purchased from the Milwaukee American Association club in 1912 for $12,000, a large price at that time. He had joined Milwaukee, in 1911 after playing his first professional ball with the Taylorville, Illinois club. He is 32 years old.
The White Sox change of manager is the sixth to be announced since the close of the baseball season.

NEW ALIGNMENT EASTERN TEAMS NOW CONSIDERED

Yale, Harvard and Dartmouth May be New "Big Three"

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—While some alumni of Harvard sought to restore athletic relations between Princeton and Harvard, possible new football alignment were being discussed today as an outgrowth of the most sensational college rupture in years.

An eastern conference, a new "Big Three" consisting of Yale, Harvard and Dartmouth and resumption of the long discarded Pennsylvania-Princeton series were among the possibilities suggested.

Howard Elliott, chairman of the Northern Pacific Railroad and president of the Harvard board of overseers, was joined by Yale men in opening wedges for peace.

"We anticipate a renewal of friendship," said the Yale News. Hope that authorities of the two institutions "will come together and bury the hatchet," was voiced by Mr. Elliott.

Different View
A different view is taken by C. H. Chase, dean of the graduate school at Harvard who looks on the rupture as "bound to be a good thing."

He said: "Harvard, Yale and Princeton have been tied together too long in football. This break will force an enlargement of their playing schedules and may lead to the formation of a Big Ten in the east."

No expression of regret is heard on the Princeton campus.
Discussion of a "Big Ten" for the east involves Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Dartmouth, Brown, Army, Navy and possibly Syracuse or Colgate, Cornell, Columbia, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania now play interlocking schedules.

Greenleaf Has Chance to Catch Up in Match

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 12.—(AP)—With Erwin Rudolph of Chicago idle today, Ralph Greenleaf of New York had an opportunity to tie him for first place in the world's pocket billiard championship tournament at the Elks Club. Neither has lost a game but the Chicagoan has five victories to Greenleaf's four.

2:00 P. M. Saturday—The class for religious instruction, commonly called the catechetical class, will meet with the pastor at the hour named. The enrollment has not yet been completed but is steadily increasing. Coming to this class is not an obligation to church membership; neither does the pastor promise confirmation just because a young person attends the lectures; however it is an opportunity to enjoy with others the privilege of informing the mind and moving the heart.

You are cordially invited to all our services.

2:00-5:30 P. M. Sunday, Nov. 21 is set for an Every-Member-Visitation. Plans are being perfected that every member shall be visited at the time set or sometime during Thanksgiving week. For this Sunday we are asking those who are to be visited to remain at home during the hours of this visitation to receive their callers. This is becoming a better and more blessed work each year. Year after year we are hoping to strengthen and enoble this task. We shall need about fifty workers. The visitation will not be finished until ALL have been seen.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday The Northern Conference will meet in the Nachusa Lutheran church. You are invited to all the sessions.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

FIRST M. E. CHURCH

The Intermediate League meets at 6:15 p. m. There was a very fine group out last Sunday. It is hoped that this will be one of our most enthusiastic groups. All ages from 10 to 15 invited. Mrs. A. W. Carlson in charge.

The Epworth League meets at 6:30. The fine programs of the last few weeks and interests look like a big success. These young folks do all their own planning and make up all their own programs. The contest is making it interesting. Come out and see for yourself.

"The Unknown Soldier" will be the subject for the sermon Sunday night at 7:30. Rev. Carlson will be the speaker. Invite your friends to come out with you, they will appreciate it. The interest in world matters is before us; the fact of peace and war is in our minds. Here it is discussed from the Christian point of view.

Monday: Meeting of the Children's Choir at 4 p. m. The number increases each week and it is hoped we will soon have the full quota of 75.

Wednesday: Our Midweek Meeting at 7:30 p. m. How can you afford to miss this spiritual treat. Mark this night in your calendar as the night for a spiritual blessing. A. E. Marth, chairman, B. S. Schildberg, in charge of the music. The pastor will give the lesson exposition.

Thursday: Meeting of the W. H. M. S. at the parsonage, 210 Peoria Ave., 2:30 p. m.

Thursday: Joliet-Dixon District Promotional Meeting beginning at 7:30 p. m. Fellowship supper at 6:30. Make your reservation with the usher. Evening meeting and program at 7:30 p. m. A fine program with interesting speakers. Everyone is invited. Don't miss the opportunity to hear these men on the program. It is really fine.

Sunday November 21: Church school at 9:45; Worship at 10:45 a. m. The pastor will preach. Harvest Festival musical program, the united choirs, 7:30 p. m.

Financially: Have you received your envelopes? Call 685 and report it if not. You will be sent your box. It is imperative that every member of the church have a financial part in building up the program of the church. When making your subscription do not fail to register an equal amount, if possible, for the world service work.

How you can help: Always come to the church services when possible. Make sure your church subscription is "always up to date." Be a live active member. Make a place for yourself in the service of the church. Invite your friends to come with you. Boost your church everywhere all the time. You'll get more out of it yourself. Make helpful suggestions about the program to your officers in charge. Pray for yourself and for your leaders. Read your Bible with care.

our Lord and his Apostles and the Prophets. A very cordial invitation is extended to all to attend and hear what he has to offer.

PREPAREDNESS IS DEBATED BY TOASTMASTERS

Funeral Prevented DeKalb Preacher from Attending Meet

At the eleventh hour Reverend J. C. Fields of DeKalb, who was to address the Toastmasters' Club last evening, telephoned that owing to a funeral it was impossible for him to be present. An impromptu debate was held in keeping with the spirit of Armistice Day, when the problem of national disarmament was discussed. F. G. Eno and D. McMaster defended armed preparedness while Dr. C. E. Smith and J. Niles Palmer opposed it. Upon an open vote from the club the victory went to the affirmative, the members using the policy that was made by the debaters and not necessarily their own opinion in the matter.

A good share of the evening was spent in a number of the members reminiscing and telling of their experiences during the war. C. C. Hintz who had charge of the stunt for the evening, showed up a number of the members in their inability to answer apparently common questions regarding the facts of the war.

Reports were brought in regarding the Toastmasters' Fair to be held next week which showed that everything is progressing splendidly and that the fair bids well to be the biggest thing this Club has ever undertaken.

Next week each member will have as his guest the farm boy whom he supplied with eggs in the chicken project. The boy, moreover, will bring his chicken at that meeting that he is to present to his sponsor, together with the fowl's that he is to exhibit during the fair.

Bowling League is Formed by Workers

Representatives from the factories of the city met Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing the Industrial Bowling League. Several teams in the factories are already organizing and waiting to get started in this league on the "Y" alleys and several have already had practices in preparation for the first game which will be held next week.

The schedule includes six teams, though it is expected that two more teams that have not been officially heard from will enter, making a total of eight teams in the league. The schedule as set up by the factory representatives Wednesday night will start next Tuesday evening when J. I. Case Company will meet the Independent team which will go under the name of Maple Cutters. Wednesday Brown Shoe Company will play the West plant of the Reynolds Wire Screen Company, and on Friday the I. N. U. will play the Reynolds Wire Company East plant. Thereafter the schedule which will be worked out and sent to each team, games will be played on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

The bowling committee of the Y. M. C. A. has put up a handsome silver loving cup which will go to the winning team.

Boys to Have Run of Building on Saturday

Tomorrow is the big day of the week for the boys of the city when they will make the "Y" their common meeting place. Gym games, athletics, swimming and a list of other games and activity will be the order of the day, from nine in the morning to five P. M., at which time the business men and young men have their gym and swimming classes.

PERSHING WAS
SPEAKER NOON
DAY LUNCHEON

General Pleaded for Preparedness in Chicago Talk

Chicago, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The down-fall of the United States will not be far off, "if the time ever comes when public offices can be virtually bought and sold, either directly or indirectly," General J. J. Pershing, war time commander of the American Expeditionary Forces declared today before a meeting of Kiwanis Club here.

"In the light of recent events in certain states," he said, "some of our citizens would modify the methods of selecting candidates for office."

"The presumption that large expenditures for campaign purposes may be made without ulterior motive does not appear to be warranted. To sanction expenditure of excessive amounts of money to secure the nomination of candidates for office would be to exclude unjustly all but the wealthy from such contests."

General Pershing asserted that the "great part taken by our country during the World War, adding that 'there is little doubt that the contest would have terminated otherwise had it not been that the extraordinary assistance sent by America arrived at a critical moment.'"

He made a plea for preparedness, contending that "if we could have armed and equipped even half a million men and sent them to France early in 1917, the probabilities are that the war could have been won that year."

Ousted Presbyterian Minister is Adamant

Lead, S. D., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Continued relentless warfare "against what appears to be terrible sin in the Presbyterian Church in South Dakota" was declared here today by Rev. A. H. Crombie, fundamentalist Presbyterian churchman.

Rev. Mr. Crombie's statement followed his suspension by the Black Hills Presbytery yesterday pending disposition of charges of insubordination and conduct unbecoming a minister.

"This suspension," he said, "does not infer guilt. It does not affect my ordination or prevent me from occupying anything except strictly Presby-

Says Railroads of Country Should Get
Pay from the Queen

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Congressman A. C. Shallenberger of Nebraska, member of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce today said he planned to conduct an investigation "if the Burlington Railroad is charging Queen Marie's trip to the American public or is transporting her free."

He believed "her trip can be borne better by the federal government or the Rumanian government than by the overburdened tax-payers of the midwest."

"The President must pay to travel, so why should not the Queen of a foreign government pay, especially when the railroads are so hard put to make enough money to pay their dividends?"

The congressman said that if statements attributed to Col. John Carroll, who is in charge of her train, are true, the Queen's journey violates at least the spirit of existing laws governing railroad transportation.

HELP YOURSELF TO HEALTH

W. K. Kellogg

Lagging feet and longing hearts

THE third dance... and tired, utterly tired... sinking into the first chair—there perhaps to spend the rest of the evening. This was not the vivacious girl she had been a few years ago. Then thirty dances would have been her portion. What tragedy was this, that she, so young, should seem so old.

What tragedy indeed is constipation—one of the worst diseases to afflict the human race. It saps strength. It thwarts beauty. It poisons. It ages its victims long before their time. But the hopeful part of it is—constipation can be safely and permanently relieved without the use of habit-forming pills and drugs. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the answer.

No matter if constipation has become chronic, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will bring permanent relief. This is why: Bran—ALL-BRAN—goes completely through the system without changing fiber. It is what doctors call a bulk food, a necessary aid to regular elimination.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief, or your grocer returns the purchase price. Its delightful nutty flavor makes it good as a cereal. Serve with milk or cream alone or with fresh or preserved fruit; with other cereals or cook in hot cereals; use in soups, or in the recipes given on every package.

Don't take chances. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is ALL-BRAN—100% bran. That's why doctors recommend it. Sold by all grocers and served in hotels and restaurants.

WABASH PLANS TO GIVE ZUP'S MEN A BATTLE

Confident They Can be in Running Saturday at Urbana

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 12—(AP)—Wabash held Coach Robert Zupke's football team to 21 points last year and is planning to give the Illinois team a run for their money next Saturday in the Memorial Stadium.

Coach Zupke is spending most of his time this week preparing for the final conference game of the season with Ohio State a week from next Saturday, although not overlooking the Indiana boys' visit. Wabash defeated Butler 13 to 0 and Illinois defeated Butler early in the season 28 to 0 after the Indianapolis invaders had put up a tough pre-season fight.

The "four mules", Zupke's star backfield, will be in action during the early part of the game but will probably be relieved by a second string backfield composed of French, Stuessey, Leonard and Gallivan. Gallivan relieved Stewart in several of the regular games this season; Leonard, Stuessey and French have all played for a short time in regular games but have never been given a real opportunity to display their potentialities. Saturday's game should see some long passes from Stuessey to French, if practice sessions are an indication.

Kassel and Wilson, the regular Illinois ends, will probably be relieved by D'Ambrasio and Nickel or Brown. Mariner and Grable, regular tackles, will be given a rest when Perkins and Nowack are sent in while Jones and Knapp are likely to take over the guard positions held by Shively and Schultz. Richman, a first class center, who has been overshadowed by Reitsch's stellar performances will be over the ball at center.

More than half a ton of snails was shipped from France to the United States last year.

"Nook" Shop to Open in Dixon Tomorrow

A most unique type of a shop will open in Dixon tomorrow. It is located at the Woolever millinery store. It will be known as the "Nook" Shop. Mrs. Lillie Woolever will manage this store.

The "Nook" Shop is one of many shops of its kind that will be located throughout the middle west. These shops are owned and operated by the Housedress & Apron Company of Galesburg, who will sell the housedresses, aprons and lingerie they manufacture direct to the consumer at wholesale prices.

CHARLESTON TO DOMINATE

London (AP)—The flat Charleston, that is the Charleston minus the kicks, will dominate fashionable clubs throughout London this winter, says Adelaide Astaire, the American actress who is fascinating the British capital by her dancing in "Lady, Be Good."

"Most persons do not look particularly graceful when dancing it," adds Miss Astaire, "but then the hour of its dancing is yet young. People who just pick up the Charleston will never make a success of it. It has to be learned properly to be danced well."

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

JUDITH MARTIN is a teacher in Pendleton State University. Her two chief admirers are ERIC WATERS, rebel senior, and DR. PETER DORN, astronomy professor.

DEAN TIMOTHY BROWN is resolved to make Judith drop her student friends and come into the faculty fold. She refuses to give up Eric.

MYRA ALDRICH, in love with Eric, is jealous of Judith. Judith befriends Mrs. Brown, when "KITTY" SHEA, town boot-legger, blackmails her with a story of her trip to the city to meet her lover.

Judith appeals to Eric to shut Shea up.

Spending the Christmas holidays alone in Myra's sorority house, Judith is terrified when Shea tries to force an entrance. She shoots in the air and drives him away.

A few days later, the body of Shea is found under his car in a creek just out of town. His pockets are full of letters.

Judith, remembering her shot, asks Eric whether there were any bullet holes in Shea's body.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIII

ERIC looked at her strangely. "No," he said. "There weren't any bullet wounds. Why do you ask?"

Judith pulled herself together. "Someone said there was talk of his being wounded before the crash."

"Well," said Eric, "Manners thinks something happened to make him go over the bank—something violent, I mean. He might have had a fight and in the scuffle turned the wheel suddenly."

"When do they think he died?" asked Judith.

"Manners said it had been at least as long ago as Christmas. That's a funny thing. They've had emergency gangs working on that road day and night, ever since Christmas morning; so it couldn't have happened since then. And Shea was seen in town the day before."

Judith looked up at him. "Then that narrows it down to Christmas Eve, doesn't it?"

Eric nodded. "Apparently. But why worry your head about it?" He took her arm. "Judith, you're letting this get you down. I've never seen you so nervous. Come on out with me and take a walk—or have a cup of coffee."

They went out of the building by the door nearest the Prairie Schooner. In a booth Judith relaxed for the first time in many hours. The waiter brought them steaming coffee and waffles.

Eric sat quietly watching her from across the little table. She saw that he was pale and unshaven. Under the overhead light the bruised spot on his forehead, still faintly visible.

He stretched a hand across to her. "Listen, Jude. If there's anything worrying you, won't you tell me? You look as though you could scarcely bear up another minute."

Judith squeezed his hand. "No," she said, "I'm all right now. What He stretched a hand across to her. "Listen, Jude. If there's anything worrying you, won't you tell me?"

was worrying me has been cleared up. But it's dear of you to want to help me, Eric. The others have only harassed me."

His fingers tightened on hers. "I'd do anything for you, Judith. You know that. I'd lie, steal, kill or rob—or even change my style of collar, if you wanted me to."

Judith laughed. "There it is—the old Eric, tempering every compliment with irony. But your collars are all right. I don't want you to change them. All I want is understanding. You and I talk in the same language. We're both of us incorrigibles."

"Yes, thank God," said Eric, at last, "I'm all right now. What

"There's only one thing that would do me any good," said Judith, sipping her coffee.

Eric looked up. "That's for somebody to knock down Dean Timothy Brown and sit on him," she grinned at Eric.

"Nothing would give me more pleasure," remarked Eric. "I have a few scores of my own to settle with him. And even if I hadn't, I should like to knock him down and sit on him—for the good of his soul."

Judith smiled. "I'm not concerned with his soul. But if for no other reason than his treatment of his wife, he needs it."

Eric nodded. "Not all the martyrs were burnt in Rome or racked to death in Spain," he said. "How men like that escape arsenic in their coffee baffles me."

"If I were his wife, he wouldn't have," answered Judith. "But I think there was opium in this coffee. I am so sleepy I can't hold my head up."

Eric rose to go. "Emotional strain."

afraid their wives will divorce them if certain letters are found among Shea's prize collections."

Judith shivered. "What a monster he must have been."

"Drove a thriving trade in other people's sins, while enjoying his own," said Will. "An ideal existence."

"Stop being Oscar Wildeish and take me to the picture show," said Judith.

A man came out of the newspaper office and began to chalk a new bulletin. "Dead man's letters may be deciphered, says expert working on mud-stained documents."

"Come on, then," Will said, taking Judith's arm. "I've never written to the old boy, at any rate."

The movie house was crowded and Judith and Will had to take seats in the last row. Judith settled down in the comforting darkness and leaned her head back to listen to the music. Wetherel relapsed into silence. When the lights flashed on, she jumped.

"Well," exclaimed Will, "that's the first time a young lady ever went to sleep on me."

They went down the main street toward the College Inn. It was dark, and a black wreath hung on the door.

Wetherel laughed. "More people are mourning that crook than ever mourn a good man. And how the numbers will increase when they begin to dive into Shea's blue books! I feel that I should send him a wreath myself. I'm so damn sorry he died without destroying his records."

Wetherel looked at her white face and said no more. They walked toward the campus. It was dark and quiet, with its embracing rows of shadowy buildings.

"Will," said Judith, "were you ever in love?"

"My God!" exclaimed her companion. "Was I ever in love? The lady asks me! Was I ever out of it? If they cut my heart open when I die, they'll find nothing but scars."

"All of which means that you have never been in love at all," commented Judith. "So I guess you can't help me."

"Why, what did you want?"

"I wanted advice. But no man with a heart full of scars is qualified to give it. Just one big scar now—that would be different."

"Well, now," said Wetherel, obligingly, "if you throw me over, there'll be just one big scar, blotting out all the others."

Judith laughed. "I'm too tired to be coy, Will. And I think I'm a little crazy. Or living in a nightmare. Let's hurry."

"You were probably going to ask me—Is Eric in love with you?" said Will, judicially. "And to be perfectly frank, I should say yes."

They could hear newshoys on the streets beyond the confines of the quadrangle, crying something unintelligible.

The campus was a dark pool of peace. "I hate to leave this calm enclosure," said Judith. "Life seems to surge up around it and batter at its serenity, without success."

"For crying out loud, Judith, you talk like a gravedigger. Snap out of it."

They came out of the campus and turned into College road. Here, too, there was quiet, and most of the houses were dark.

The door of the Stedway house opened as they approached the porch, and Myra came running out with a paper in her hand. "Oh Will," she cried, ignoring Judith, "I've been looking for you. Eric's been arrested—under the Shea murder. You've got to do something!"

(To Be Continued)

Eric is in a bad scrape this time. For a letter to him has been found in the dead man's pocket.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickly by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store.

January 16, 17, were declared special law enforcement days. It was determined to watch the courts to see what happens to violators of the prohibition and carrying out the work among the youth of the country for which the W. C. T. U. has become famous.

Considerable attention was attracted to the plan to work for municipal law enforcement codes in every city.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

WHAT THE W. C. T. U. DID AT LOS ANGELES

When the three thousand delegates to the fifty-second annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union left Los Angeles, after a week of delightful entertainment and hard work, they took home to the other 550,000 members inspiration and a plan which is probably the beginning of the final great move against alcohol in America. The convention was in indignation meeting against the libelous propaganda of the vets in the past year, and a pledge to work unceasingly for universal respect and enforcement of the prohibition laws.

The sentiment of this great army of white ribboners rang out in the clear keynote speech of Mrs. Ella A. Boole, who presided over a national convention for the first time as president. Her speech drew much favorable editorial comment, and the constructive program inspired by her address is largely responsible for the telegram of greeting and congratulation received by the convention from President Coolidge, Assistant Secretary Andrews, and other officials. "Hold fast—and go forward" is the slogan for 1927 Mrs. Boole gave to the convention.

For the first time the W. C. T. U. adopted a platform instead of the time-honored set of resolutions. Among the planks were declarations of America's dependence on prohibition as a mainstay of the present great prosperity, a call for obedience to the law and efficiency in law enforcement; greater authority for the government to be granted by proper legislation; a hundred per cent dry vote at the polls; a condemnation of the Quebec plan, and a repudiation of the libelous charge that prohibition has demoralized youth as a whole.

Outstanding in public interest was the convention's 1927 program for law enforcement. It includes educating America in the benefits of prohibition and carrying out the work among the youth of the country for which the W. C. T. U. has become famous.

Considerable attention was attracted to the plan to work for municipal law enforcement codes in every city.

LITTLE CHANGE IN EMPLOYMENT NOTED THROUGHOUT STATE

Illinois Department of Labor Makes Report for October

Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—October brought little change in the general level of factory operations in Illinois, the monthly review of the Illinois Department of Labor said today. Although the upward swing which was so pronounced in evidence during September had spent its force, of the 15,000 workers who were put to work during September, it appears that 11,000 still are at work.

With the cold blasts of winter already bringing a reminder of the rigorous weather of the ensuing months, 27,900 more people are employed in the factories of this State than a year ago at this time and 46,000 more than at this time in 1924. If present indications furnish any criterion for judging, suffering on account of poverty should be less during the coming winter than of any since 1923.

Active fall trade for the retail stores is indicated in several indexes to the situation. Not only are more people receiving wages than in other 1924 or 1925, but the average weekly earnings of factory workers is higher than in any fall month in five years. For 294,691 factory workers, the average weekly pay envelope had $28.92 in it, that of the male employees averaging $31.88, while among the female workers the average was $17.68.

Labor Market Active
The labor market continued active throughout the month, the placement record for the free employment offices of the state, amounting to 17,771, or a full thousand ahead of the aggregate of placements a year ago, 6,000 ahead of November 1924, and 500 more than in the same month in 1925.

Employers at Bloomington and Cicero reported the greatest gains in employment in the month, approximately 10 per cent being added to the payrolls in the former city and 8 per cent in the latter. The improvement was substantial also at Danville, Joliet, Peoria and Rockford. The reductions in the volume of factory operations were fairly substantial at Aurora, East St. Louis and Quincy. At Chicago, Decatur, Moline, Rock Island and Springfield, the change as shown by the statistics was almost imperceptible.

Several factors have combined to bring a very considerable improvement in the operations of the coal mines, and consequently in the condition of the people in the coal mining communities. The coming of cold weather, the prospect of a suspension of operations on April 1 of next year, and demand for coal for export purposes, have greatly stimulated coal production in this State in the past 30 days. Announcements came to the attention of the Department of Labor of Illinois of 22 more mines having been put in readiness for operating and most if not all of these mines are probably hoisting coal by this time. What is more significant, several of the reopening mines have been completely idle for two or three years. The Bureau of Mines of the U. S. Department of Commerce reports that weekly production of Illinois mines reached 1,624,000 tons in the week of Oct. 23. This was a gain of 100,000 tons during the week, and was well ahead of the corresponding week of October, 1924, although slightly behind the same week last year. Only Pennsylvania and West Virginia are producing more coal than Illinois. Kentucky lagging 300,000 tons behind in the week of October 23.

ROCHELLE NEWS

ROCHELLE — Rochelle's new Masonic Temple was dedicated with impressive ceremonies Wednesday night by Brother Owen Scott, Grand Secretary of Decatur, Illinois.

Covers were laid for two hundred and fifty at the 6:30 banquet that preceded the program. During the serving by the ladies of the Eastern Star the lyric trio stringed orchestra consisting of Katherine McEachern, Alice Hackett and Maxine Maginnis furnished music.

Worshipful Master Austin Conzett presided with Ralph Charters of Ashton, a the piano, and the Oriental Male Quartet, of Chicago, furnishing music. The procession of grand lodge officers were received, including Grand Master Owen Scott, Decatur; Deputy Grand Master W. H. Stauffer, Dixon; Grand Marshal John Platner, Chicago; Grand Tyler Scribner, Chicago; Grand Architect Joseph Odyke, Rochelle; Chaplain F. A. Campbell, Rochelle; Grand Orator Robert H. Mathers, Rockford; Grand Purveyor Karl J. Mohr, Rockford; Grand Junior Deacon Theodore Hagg, Rochelle; Grand Senior Deacon H. A. Abramson, Rochelle; Grand Steward George E. Moore, Rochelle; Grand Senior Warden W. F. Hackett, Rochelle; Grand Secretary J. M. Weeks, Rochelle; Grand Treasurer Adolph Hill, Rochelle; Master of the Lodge J. E. Barber, Rochelle.

Brother Owen Scott in his dedicatory address said in part:

"The first and greatest purpose for which this temple is dedicated is for the worship of God. No lodge is a great as a church but a lodge is a hand maiden to the church.

"The second great purpose for which we dedicate this temple is for the relief of a worthy distressed brother or his widow or orphan. The purse strings of masonry are always open for the relief of distress. We care for those who cannot care for themselves, the aged, the infirm, the youth at LaGrange. The Eastern Star care for members of their order and widows of masons in distress at their home at Rockford.

"I am surprised, I am astonished that you have been able to construct such a building and dedicate it free from debt. There is not a better planned or exercised enterprise, considering the size of your community and your limited membership, in the state of Illinois. Yet have done something that will stand for ages to come—a monument to generosity, to see your fellows benefited in life.

"The one who can thus write his name on the hearts of others leaves a monument that will endure. This building stands as a monument in Rochelle to unselfishness, fraternity, and dedicated for the use of future generations."

Following the dedicatory ceremonies Attorney W. B. McHenry in a splendid tribute to the late brother Emanuel Hill and Mrs. Pauline Hill presented C. P. Unger, President of the Temple Association with the deed of conveyance to the property. Mr. Unger, in accepting the document lauded the wisdom of Mrs. Hill, who was present, in her counsel and in her foresight in making the provision of her gift of $10,000 additional to the bequeathing of the building site in her husband's will, that the building be dedicated free from debt. Mr. Unger stated that the building was fully paid for, but that the Masonic bodies incurred a debt of approximately $1,000.00 for furnishings which was still outstanding. The late Emanuel Hill served for 51 consecutive years as treasurer of the local lodge. A great tribute also was paid by Mr. Unger to Brother Joseph Iodyske, the architect. Attorney W. P. Landon presented the lodge with a stone from King Solomon's Temple at Jerusalem.

Among the selections rendered by the Oriental Male Quartet was "When You and I Were Young, Maggie", written by Charles Butterfield, a Rochelle boy, whose father was a member of Rochelle lodge. Others were "Golden Bells", "Darling Nellie Gray", "Land O'Mine", and "Id Gang O'Mine."

Funeral services for Mrs. Orrin Sherwood, wife of the Junior Deacon of Rochelle Lodge, will be held from the Methodist church at 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The Eastern Star will have charge of the service.

Speed of Birds Found

25 to 46 Miles an Hour

Berlin.—(AP)—Scientific measurements of the speed of a bird's flight show some of the feathered fliers capable of approaching a mile a minute.

Prof. August Thilenius, at his bird observatory at Rositten, East Prussia, has added considerably to the knowledge of bird speed. Tests showed the carrier's speed to be nearly equalled by that of the starling, which he measured as 46.65 miles per hour. Other speeds were: the jayhawk, 28.22 miles; the parrot finch, 37 miles; the finch and the rook 22.58 miles; and hooded crows and gray gulls 21.65 miles per hour.

The slowest of the birds under observation was the sparrow hawk, which made only 23.79 miles per hour. The tests were made in calm air.

American Watches Slow

Down in English Air

London.—(AP)—American visitors to England must set their watches ahead at least three minutes as soon as they land because of the effect of the enervating climate on the works. Many visitors find it necessary to adjust their watches at least twice a week.

Inquiry among watch makers disclosed that change of altitude was more likely to affect watches than change of temperature. "It is likely however that the watches of American visitors, used to a dry crisp climate find London a trifle enervating and react accordingly," one manufacturer said.

Lockhart Breaks Record

to Win Sprint Auto Race

Charleston, N. C., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Frank Lockhart won the first 25 mile race in the American Automobile sprint race championship here this afternoon. Benny Hill was second.

Lockhart broke a world's record in winning the race at a rate of 132.3 miles an hour. The previous record of 130.29 miles an hour was held by Leon Durray.

Asks Investigation of West Virginia Primary

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 11.—(AP)—The Senate campaign funds committee was asked today by Representative J. A. Taylor, democrat, to extend its investigation to West Virginia, if it has jurisdiction. Representative Taylor was defeated by 38 votes for reelection in the sixth West Virginia congressional district by E. T. England, republican.

The Woman Who Is Astounding America

Reveals Sensational Secrets of New York's Society

MRS. PHILIP LYDIG
The first wife of the late W. E. D. Lydig, a New York social leader for many years and descendant through her mother of the Spanish Duke d'Alba.

TODAY a certain woman is famed as a leader of New York social life. Her husband owns one of the world's most valuable collections of art treasures. Her home is a mecca for nabobs and billionaires. Just a few years ago the same woman was a hopeless outcast. But she learned a little secret and started on the way to social prominence. What was the price she paid? How did she finally remove the last obstacle—the man who threatened to expose her methods and even bring her husband to financial failure?

This is only one of many such incidents that Mrs. Lydig gives with astonishing frankness in her article, "Frauds of Smart Society." This article is published in the December Red Book Magazine now on sale at all news-stands.

Is the Unwritten Marriage Law Passing?

As Discussed by JUDGE BEN B. LINDSEY

OUT of the hodge-podge of thousands of tangled human relationships, Judge Lindsey has evolved a philosophy so courageous, so removed from old standards—so daring—that the nation is staggered. People, he declares, are making their own rules and laws, to suit their happiness and needs. For example, he says—The love triangle is often a solution to marriage problems. One's love-life is his own and as long as he hurts no one, Society has no right to criticize or condemn.

That Infidelity is NOT at the root of marital troubles—but lack of fair play and a feeding of green-eyed jealousy. That Freedom in love affairs, in marriage, leads to a monogamous marriage of itself. You will gasp mentally when you read his article in the December Red Book Magazine—The Moral Revolt; never before has any publication let such frankness go uncensored.

You will wake up to changes in thought and action that are cropping up all about you!
